Dear Sirs

Paul Dunwell

Paul Dunwell was employed by Imarco Limited as an Account Manager between October 1997 and May 1998. During that period he managed the market communications programmes across Europe for two business segments of a major client involved in marine and industrial engineering.

Paul's great talent lies in the creativity of approach he brings to message development and also his fortitude in driving jobs through to completion. Paul is a dedicated and conscientious individual who delights in working on his own initiative as well as being a talented and imaginative writer.

Yours faithfully

David C. Paul
Joint Managing Director
